My favorite parts of school are math class – and lunch. I hope I like the sixth-grade lunches. I like spaghetti and pizza, but not hot dogs or tuna fish. There should be a menu so I know if I want to buy lunch or not. And everyone should get to vote on what they liked most about lunch. So you would know the best things to pick! If I didn't like the lunch, I would bring my own from home. But even if I put it right next to the door, I might forget. There is sooooo much stuff I have to bring to school: my backpack, my books, my homework, my coat when it's cold, my clarinet for band practice. How am I supposed to remember it all??? For sixth grade I'm going to a school where I DON'T have to wear a uniform. For the first time ever! So what are the rules about what you can wear? My best friends and I don't know. Help!
